TEN CENTS PER WEEK

BATTLE BETWEEN HOLYROLLERS AND K. C. POLICEMEN

Three People Fatally Hurt in Crowded Street During Fight.

"Adam God" the Second Elijah in Hiding.

MORE BLOODSHED EXPECTED

Kansas City, Dec. 9.—John Sharp, self-styled "Adam God," leader of the Holyrollers, who engaged in a street fight with the police yesterday, is still at large. He made threats he never would be taken alive. The entire police force is searching and it is expected bloodshed will follow any attempt to arrest him. Many of Sharp's followers have disappeared. It is believed they joined him and intend to resist the police if attacked. Louis Pratt, another disciple is dying from wounds but still defies the police and says he will live to kill more officers. Policemen Clark and Mullane are dying. Patrolman Dalbow and Lola Pratt were killed yesterday.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 9.—In the very shadow of the city hall a riot in which religious fanatics and the police were participants, and in which hundreds of shots were fired resulted in the death of one policeman and a young girl, fatal injury to three and slight injuries to two other persons.

The dead are: Albert O. Dalbow, policeman; Lola Pratt, aged 13 years. Fatally injured: John Sharp, known as "Adam God," a street preacher; Michael Mullane, a patrolman, not expected to live; Patrick Clark, police sergeant, at the point of death.

The slightly injured: Harry E. Stege, policeman; George M. Holt, probation officer.

Sharp Strikes Officer. Holt, the probation officer of the juvenile court, went to investigate a case of alleged abduction reported to him. Near the corner of Fifth and Main streets he came upon Sharp, who, surrounded by his companions, was exhorting the crowd. With Sharp were A. J. Salzer, a woman and five children.

Holt then accosted the woman and inquired as to the identity of the children. She abused the officer for interference and "Adam God" struck him behind the ear with a pistol, making an ugly wound. Holt then started for the police station for assistance and as he moved away the preacher tried to shoot him, but Sharp dropped the revolver. Holt picked it up and snapped it at the officer, the cartridge failing to explode.

General Battle Fought.

Holt rushed into the police station and warned the officers of impending trouble. Dalbow and Stege were ordered to arrest Sharp and his followers. The religiousists were within 50 yards of the station and when the officers appeared opened fire. Dalbow fell dead and a bullet passed through Stege's arm. Other officers rushed into the street and a general battle ensued.

Lieutenant Clark was shot in the eye and Patrolman Mullane in the back as he hurried into the station for reinforcements. A riot call brought more policemen and they closed in on Sharp and his followers, firing as they went. When the firing ceased, "Adam God" lay fatally wounded, shot through the head and body. Those seriously injured were taken to the hospital.

Police Prevent Escape. It was later learned that Sharp's male companion was Louis Pratt, the father of the five children. He was unhurt and was taken in charge by the police. The woman and the children escaped and fled to a houseboat, where she defied 50 policemen. When they rushed for the houseboat she seized two children, jumped into a rowboat and attempted to escape. The officers fired a volley, one shot tearing away the greater portion of Lola Pratt's face and fatally injuring her. The woman then surrendered.

Were Known in Oklahoma. Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 9.—James Sharp, styling himself "Elijah II," at the head of a party of "Holyrollers," first appeared in Oklahoma City in March of 1905. Sharp, his wife, a young man named Green and a boy claimed to have been the son of Sharp, all made, headed a procession of their followers one cold day in March of 1905, and attempted to parade the town. They were arrested, but allowed to go free providing they left the country. They camped below the city and the summer following became so obnoxious to the farmers that they were again arrested. They then went to Colorado, where they got into similar trouble.

Insurgent Association Men Will Meet at Kuttawa Saturday to Hear Reply About Sales of Loose Leaf

Circuit Court Will Convene at Benton Monday But Night Riders Cases May Not be Tried.

Kuttawa, Dec. 9.—(Special.)—Indications are that there will be a large attendance at the mass meeting to be held by the "insurgent" members of the tobacco growers' association here Saturday, which is called for the purpose of taking final action as to the disposition of the crop of tobacco to be grown next year. The "insurgents" have demanded the privilege of selling their tobacco loose leaf fashion and Saturday is the day set for a final answer to be given their demands from Felix Ewing, general manager of the association.

Court at Benton. Benton, Ky., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—The regular December term of the Marshall county circuit court will begin Monday and the principal cases on the docket are the night rider prosecutions. However, it is probable that all will be continued on account of the term of court being short and the Christmas holidays being at hand would prevent a special term. The criminal term of the McCracken court begins the first Monday in January.

Ewing and others prominent in the organization will speak here. Announcement has been made that all questions regarding the collection and disbursement of funds and the management of the organization will be answered and that fact in view of the recent suit for a receiver will make the meeting one of the most interesting ever held in western Kentucky.

Mystery in Hirschberg's Death. St. Louis, Dec. 9.—The mystery surrounding Hirschberg's death is still unsolved. Apparently efforts are being made to suppress the story. Probably it always will remain a mystery. The coroner's inquest is today, but the jury is expected to return an open verdict. The police still say it is suicide, but relatives deny it. They are not pushing the murder theory, however.

Charles Ellis. The news of the death of Mr. Charles Ellis, of Denver Col., was received by Dr. M. Steinfeld, clerk of Olive Camp W. O. W., last night. Mr. Ellis was formerly of this city and was 28 years old. His death was due to consumption. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Ellis, and two small children. Mr. Ellis was a member of the W. O. W. of this city and also a member of the Barbers' Union. He was engaged in the barber business while in this city, but was compelled to go west for his health about three months ago. The funeral and burial will be held at Denver.

ONE PLAINTIFF IN ASSOCIATION CASE DRAWS OUT

Planter Declares He Does Not Belong to Law and Order League of County.

Ed Willett Says Name Was Not Authorized.

NOT FIGHTING FARMERS' POOL

In a letter addressed to the editor of The Sun today, Mr. Ed Willett, named as one of the plaintiffs in the action to throw the Planters' Protective association into the hands of a receiver, declares that he never gave his consent to the use of his name, and that the statement that he was consulted about this suit is false.

Mr. Willett says:

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 9, 1908.

Dear Sir: Through the columns of the public prints of several days ago my attention was called to the fact of a petition having been filed in the McCracken circuit court against the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective association of Kentucky, Tennessee, etc., and certain individuals, in which it is made to appear that I am one of the plaintiffs in said suit, the apparent effort being to throw the association into the hands of a receiver and ultimately to destroy the association entirely.

I desire now to disclaim any connection with such an effort and deny any responsibility for or sympathy with such a proceeding. My name was used without my authority, knowledge or consent and I have this day instructed Mr. Mike Oliver, the attorney who, I understand, filed the suit, to strike my name from the action as plaintiff or any other manner to which it might appear I was connected.

Being a farmer myself, having been born and reared on a farm, and following that occupation all through life, I am the last person on earth to do anything that would be inimical to their interests or throw a stumbling block in the way of their lawful progress. I am now 43 years of age and never was sued in my life or brought suit against any one and would certainly not select an organization for the benefit of the farmers, as I conceive it, as my first victim. I have also written a note to Judge Reed instructing him to strike my name from the proceedings in any manner in which it might appear. In so far as the petition asserts that the plaintiffs, including myself, belonged to or were members of a "Law and Order League" and had, for some time, discussed the mode of filing suit against the association, or any individual connected with it, I desire to say is absolutely untrue and without any foundation in fact. In the first place, I am not a member of any organization styled the "Law and Order League," other than that of any law-abiding citizen, and if such a proceeding was had at any meeting of such a league I was not present and am in no wise responsible for it. Yours respectfully,

ED WILLETT.

Attorney Mike Oliver said that, while he did not commit Mr. Willett, he did consult with nearly 50 planters and when the petition was drawn Mr. Willett's name was one of those given him. He said the withdrawal does not in any way affect the suit.

County Court Orders.

Charles Wickliffe was appointed administrator of the estate of Bridget Pierce; Jennie Read, executor of the estate of Thomas Read, and John S. Summers, of the estate of Robbie C. Wood.

Bond Issue For Improvement of Rivers and Harbors Advocated by Vice-President Fairbanks Today

National Rivers and Harbors Congress Meets to Demand That Government Outline Program.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The fifth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress began today. Its purpose is to demand that congress outline a definite plan for systematic waterways improvement. President Joseph Randall, of Louisiana, scored congress for inaction, despite the recommendations of President Roosevelt, and urged that pressure be exerted to prevent further delay. Mr. Bryce, the British ambassador, discussed the merits of waterways and declared canals really help railroads and do not compete with them. Vice President Fairbanks urged that the government issue bonds to make improvements.

In Circuit Court.

Suit has been filed in circuit court by I. Caplan & company against S. K. Ullman for $246.75, claimed due on account.

Breach of Ordinance.

A warrant was issued today against Nicas & company for breach of ordinance, it being alleged that he has used the pavement on North Fourth street unlawfully in displaying goods. Nicas is a fruit seller and has rented a space on a wall of a building at Fourth street and Broadway, and erected shelves upon which he places fruit. The city ordinance gave a merchant permission to display his merchandise two feet over the sidewalk, but it is claimed that it is illegal for a merchant to sell this permission. It is promised that a merry battle in the courts may be had over the warrant.

Clyde Rush Hurt

Metropolis, Ill., Dec. 9.—(Special.)—While working in the factory of the Metropolis Bending mill yesterday afternoon, Clyde Rush so managed his right hand in the machinery that the thumb and two fingers had to be amputated. Rush is a popular young fellow and last year was captain of the Metropolis High school football team. He is a brother of Mrs. Ed Pettit, of Twelfth and Trimble streets, in Paducah, and his father is prominently identified with the lumber business.

Want Fugitive

The police department has received a long distance telephone message from the Evansville police asking that a lookout be kept for Burco Burham, a negro who shot and killed Arthur Baisch. It is thought that the murderer started for Paducah, but the local police have learned nothing of the fugitive. The negro was supposed to be from Henderson. Baisch was talking to two young women when the negro said, "Hello, honey!" Baisch remonstrated and was killed.

Diplomat Killed

Washington, Dec. 9.—Senator Don Juan Barrios, Guatemala's minister of foreign affairs, who is in Washington on a special mission for his government, was probably fatally injured and Senator Dr. Don Luis Toledo Herrarte, Guatemalan minister to the United States, and Gen. John Drummond, a wealthy coffee planter of South America, were badly hurt in an automobile accident. The diplomats were riding in a heavy touring car when it turned turtle just after passing over the highway bridge into Virginia, the occupants being hurled beneath the car and plowed under the tonneau.

CITY LICENSES TO BE DISCUSSED FRIDAY EVENING

Members of General Council Will Meet in Committee of Whole.

Want to Open Bucketshop in Paducah Next Year.

LOAN OFFICES MAY COME IN

Copies of the proposed license ordinance were mailed out to members of the general council today and it is probable that the two boards will meet in committee of the whole Friday for general discussion of the items. It is expected that various interests will be represented at the meeting, and an opportunity will be given to all parties to be heard. When the committee of the whole has fixed the schedules to the satisfaction of the members, the board of councilmen will be called to meet to consider the ordinance and adopt it after which it will go to the board of aldermen. The ordinance must be passed this month. It is probable that a clause inserted providing that no rebates be made in case a licensed person is closed before the end of the period covered by the license.

An effort will be made to get the bucket shop license reduced from $2,000 to $500. Somebody is anxious to open a bucket shop here and is willing to pay $500 a year. The present license is prohibitive, purposely made so, to close the one formerly in existence. It is said that the loan office license will be reduced to about $200. When the present ordinance went into effect loan men refused to pay it, and by taking promissory notes got around the law in the police court.

Clark, 901 Clay street, Paducah, but will stop in Denver to visit her sister, Mrs. James Arthur Young, for a while. Mrs. Young's health has compelled her to sever her connection with the Norman Mackett company for the winter. The New York physician sending her to Denver.

Big Still Is Destroyed.

Hodgenville, Dec. 9.—Deputy Revenue Agent Charles Reynolds destroyed a still in the Hale's Mill neighborhood of this county, near the place where Deputies Jeff Cusick and Sam Parrott were ambushed some time ago. The still had a capacity of seventy-five gallons. The people of the neighborhood are greatly pleased with the work of Reynolds in aiding in the breaking up of the gang which has infested that section for some time. Many of the men implicated in the moonshining operations have left the state and it is believed the entire gang will soon be routed.

HOLIDAYS BEGINS

FRIDAY, DEC' 18

School Will be Closed Until Monday, Jan. 4.

Trustees Accept City's Proposition to Connect Lee and Lincoln Buildings With Sewers.

NO EXAMS. FOR THE JANITORS.

School will close December 18 until January 4 for the Christmas holidays. The school board met last night in regular session at the Washington school building and decided.

Supt. J. A. Carnagey is in receipt of a letter from John G. Crabbe, state superintendent of public instruction, stating that the Paducah schools will be given till January 1 to elect a trustee officer as required by law.

and if the officer is not elected then the state funds will be withheld. Mr. Crabbe stated that he had given the question of the bad financial condition of the Paducah schools due consideration and had referred the matter to the attorney general. On motion of Trustee Kelley the communication was received and it was decided that a trustee officer shall be elected at the first meeting in January. The salary of the trustee officer is fixed by law.

Mr. Dan Fitzpatrick was present at the meeting and presented to the board estimates on the sidewalk improvements at the Lee and Lincoln buildings, amounting to $793.37, which he has been holding for six months.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's claim are for sidewalk put down in June by Contractor George Katterjohn. The claims have been presented to the city officials the mayor and city solicitor, and they referred the claims to the school board. Mr. Fitzpatrick offered to take $500 and wait for the rest of the money, but the trustees did not feel able to give that large amount.

Trustee Winstead made the motion that the board allow $500 on the claims and on a vote the motion was lost by the vote of 4 yeas and 3 nays, as it takes a majority of the trustees to pay out money. Those voting yeas were Trustees Clements, Kelley, Maxwell and Winstead. Those voting nays were Trustees Bondurant, Byrd and Karnes. A committee was appointed on motion of Trustee Kelley, composed of the president of the board, J. K. Bondurant, and the finance committee, Trustees Clements, Hills and Karnes, to act with Mr. Fitzpatrick in asking the city to pay off these claims.

Health Officer Dr. H. P. Sights suggested to the board that it is just as essential to have the janitors of the buildings examined as it is the teachers for the health of the children. Trustee Clements put the motion that the janitors and all their help must pass the same physical examination as the teachers at once. The motion was seconded by Trustee Winstead. The motion was lost by the vote of 4 yeas and 3 yeas. Trustees Bondurant, Clements and Winstead voted yeas, and Trustees Kelley, Byrd, Maxwell and Karnes voted nays.

The board decided to dismiss school on Friday, December 18, for the holidays and to resume Monday, January 4. The teachers and employees will be allowed their half month's pay roll Saturday, December 19. The report of the finance committee for November, showing accounts for payment of $5,416.45 pay roll and incidentals was received and ordered paid. The report showed a cash balance on hand of $7,070.84.

The report of Supt. J. A. Carnagey for November was received and filed. Reports of the building committee and the superintendent of buildings, Fred Tfoyer, were received and filed. Prof. J. T. Ross, principal of the Jefferson school, reported that the furnace in that building does not heat the rooms properly. Superintendent Carnagey thinks that the trouble is in the piping. On motion of Trustee Winstead, Mr. Mart Coulson was employed to look over the piping. The proposition of the city to pay for the sanitary connection at the Lee and Lincoln school buildings was accepted, and the school board finance committee was instructed to have plans made and secure bids.

Trustees present were Bondurant, Byrd, Clements, Karnes, Kelley, Maxwell and Winstead.

Superintendent's Report.
Supt. Carnagey's report is: Board of Education, City:—Gentlemen:—The third month of school began November 9th and closed December 4th. As this month included Thanksgiving, the schools were closed on Thursday and Friday, November 26 and 27. The attendance of the schools has been very irregular during the month owing to the prevalence of diphtheria and scarlet fever. The secretary of the board of health and other physicians of the city have carefully examined the children in all schools twice and the buildings have all been thoroughly fumigated several times. The teachers have examined the throats of the children and suspicious cases among the children have been sent home. The teachers have co-operated heartily with the efforts of the board of health and as a result, as far as I can learn, no cases of contagion has come from the schools. The sources of contagion were all in places outside the schools. The precaution taken by the board of health and the assistance rendered by the teachers made the schools much safer places for the children than the Sunday schools, the theaters and other places where children congregate and no precautions were taken to exclude suspicious cases of contagious diseases.

Many parents took fright and kept their children away from the schools. Possibly about one-third of the children in the white schools were out on this account for from two to twenty days; while I do not censure parents for taking precaution to prevent their children from being exposed to contagious diseases, I should like to say that our experience warrants me in saying that the schools, as we protect them, are safer places than the streets, the Sunday schools, the skating rink or the five-cent theaters during the prevalence of contagious diseases. The schools are properly safeguarded. These places do not take these precautions.

The authorities through their efforts have prevented an epidemic and I trust that all the children will shortly return to their schools again.

The enrollment for the month was 3,195.

The daily attendance was 2,513.

The number of pupils withdrawn at the end of the month was 714.

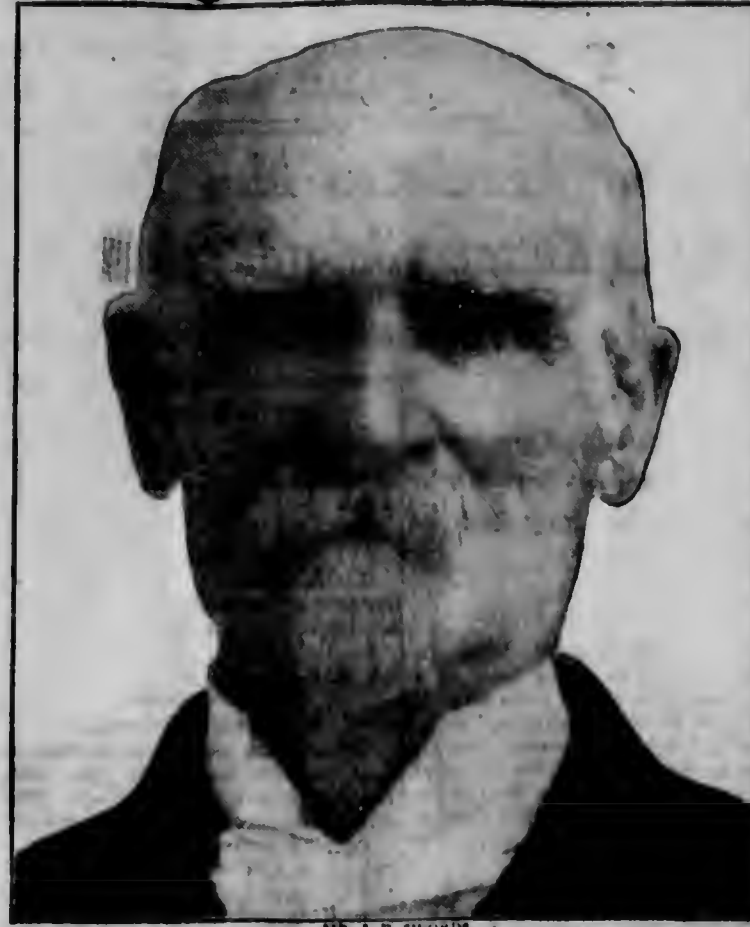

The number of cases of tardiness was 337.

Other minor items are found in my statistical report. The health of the teachers during the month has been very good, only three teachers missing any time.

I have to report that both the Lincoln and Garfield schools through the principals and the teachers have purchased new pianos for their schools. This is a very commendable move and they deserve great credit for the enterprise they are showing in thus equipping their buildings.

Last May I wrote to the authorities of Chicago University relative to having our high school placed on their accredited list entitling our graduates to enter the University without examination. I am glad to report that Dr. Nathaniel Butler, dean of the School of Education, Chicago University, visited our high school on November 9th on an inspecting tour. He expressed himself as fairly well satisfied with what he saw, but expressed the hope that we would strengthen our equipment in the laboratories and in reference lines. He said that the university expects all its accredited schools to have good laboratories where pupils can do individual work and good reference books and maps for history, language and science. This, of course, is in harmony with what I have tried to impress upon our people, and we must come to recognize, if we wish to put our schools on a first-class basis, that the higher schools and the business world demand personal work and individual training of our graduates before they can enter the best colleges and universities or do efficient work in any line of business. Daily Thought.

"Weather earth shall be like heaven depends on whether heaven is in our hearts."

PEACE ON EARTH.

"Come, let us reason together," said the Prophet Isaiah, and after some three centuries, man has accepted the prophet's figurative language in a literal sense. We are beginning to reason together; the earth is beginning to see peaceful days.

The brotherhood of man is becoming something real; diplomacy is no longer a polite international lie, to mask warlike preparations. Co-operation in common enterprises, arbitration of seeming differences to ascertain whether they are really differences or merely differences in point of view; interchange of notes between nations; all these are indications of lasting peace.

America has had a hand in bringing about the new era. She has always spoken the truth in her dealings with other nations; she has been successful. Repeated successes will attract attention. Our dominant influence in China and our friendly relations with South America, despite European meddling have their effect on the foreign departments of other governments.

War clouds in the Balkans; war clouds in the Pacific; war clouds over

South America, have been dispelled

by reasoning together.

Church denominations are reasoning together, commercial interests and capital and labor are reasoning together.

The same practice is making this country more truly democratic. A lally. Instead of being largesse for congressmen to distribute, river and harbor appropriations are for the benefit of the commerce of the whole country.

It is a difficult matter to focus the attention and get the joint opinion of $0,000,000 of sovereigns on a subject, but these national meetings are doing wonders.

And they make for peace—peace

among hitherto antagonistic interests—and not armed peace either;

but the peace of harmony and cooperation. We shall get together more quickly in this country on these common enterprises, than the nations of the earth will get together; for these generations must pass away before jealousy and suspicion are entirely eradicated. But this peace and harmony of ours, makes us more homogeneous, more patriotic, more devoted to the interest and welfare of all.

It will some day in a crisis prove the salvation of the country. Co-operating with this work is the improvement of the roads and the rural free delivery which give to the remote farmer the daily news of these assemblages and their purposes.

Those who have been wondering, what papers should be designated as the official organs of Anon has club,

one answered—The Indianapolis

News and the New York Sun.

TWO VIEWS.

It is amusing and interesting, if not illuminating to observe how different people regard the same thing.

For instance, a negro by the name of Hoeker, killed a white man at Lexington, apparently not premeditate-

ly. The Lexington Herald says:

"No man, whether he be the govern-nor of Kentucky or the most pessi-

nor and lawless member of the most outrageous band of night riders that has committed outrages in Kentucky, could strike a more deadly blow at the enforcement of the law than does Augustus E. Willson."

The Kentucky State Journal says:

"In commuting the sentence of Richard Hoeker, from death to life imprisonment, for the killing of Drummond Veal, in Fayette county,

Gov. Willson has, we are forced to believe, done the proper thing, and we commend his courage in doing a most unpopular thing, when convinced that it should be done. When negroes commit offenses against white men, it is too often the case that they are railroaded to punishment, and while we are as a general thing opposed to interference with the law's decrees, the governor acts wisely in seeing that no injustice is done the humblest citizen. There are, we believe, sufficient doubts as to whether murder in this case, to warrant the conclusion that life imprisonment carries sufficient penalty."

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN.

An old English coin made into a pin was received yesterday by Mrs.

Michael Knowles, 904 Broadway, from relatives in Preston, England.

The coin is an old half crown with the resemblance of King George on it, while on the other side it has been enamed and has a coat of arms on it with "Anno 1820" on it.

The pin was given to Mrs. Jane Sparling, a sister of Mr. M. Knowles.

Recently she died and in her will she asked that the heirloom be kept in the family, and it was sent to her brother in Paducah.

cent of the dividend can not be ascertained yet.

KING ALEXIS was minded that all proper recognition should be made of Sophy's service to his family. It had been her fortune to protect a life very precious in his eyes. Alton from his son in temperament and pursuits, he had, none the less, considerable affection for him.

But there was more than this. With the price was bound up the one strong feeling of a nature otherwise easy and careless. The king might go fishing on most lawful days, but it was always a Stepanovich who fished—a prince who had married a princess of a great house and had felt able to offer Countess Ellenburg no more than a morganatic union. The work his marriage had begun his son's was to complete. The royal house of Kravonia was still on its promotion. It lay with the prince to make its rank acknowledged and secure.

This Sophy's action loomed large in the king's eyes, and he was indolently indifferent to the view taken of it in the barrack rooms and the drinking shops of Slava. Two days after Mil-stitch's attempt he received Sophy at the palace with every circumstance of compliment. "The prince was not pres-

—TWO LIVES.

A peaceful land by a summer sea.

Where the breath of the roses sigh.

Where the green-clad hills in the moonlight sleep.

And dream of the morning high.

Where hope's bright banners are never furled.

By the conquering hosts of pain.

Their marble pinnacles pierce the sky—

My enchanted castles in Spain.

A lonely tale in a lonely sea.

Where the seahills wheel and cry.

Where the cowering breakers turn and flee.

From the scourge of the storm-wind high.

The pall of the darkness hides the stars.

And the mournful tears of the rain fall on a heart where memory keeps.

Her altar-fires of pain.

But the stormy waters shall sink to rest.

When day comes o'er the waves.

The sun kiss the ocean's troubled breast.

Sorrowing o'er her grave.

The angel song of Ponce shall rise.

From the heartstrings crushed and sore.

And life with full fruition blush.

After the storm is o'er.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

—Victor Vork and Mrs. James Wellie, giving a charming introduction to the brilliant scene.

With Mrs. Wallerstein in the pretty reception room were: Mrs. Melvin Wallerstein, Mrs. Armour Gardner, Mrs. David Levy, of New York; Mrs. James Utterback and Mrs. Herman Wallerstein.

In the punch room, opening from the dining room, Mrs. Henry Rudy, Miss Ethel Brooks and Miss Mamie Dreyfuss made a charming coterie.

Mrs. Marshall Puryear, a bride of last June, was handsome in a reception gown of pale blue silk and white lace.

Mrs. Calhoun Locke, one of the October brides, wore a tulle gown of pink flowered white crepe de chine made empire-directoire.

Beautiful Reception Introducing

Mrs. Jacob Wallerstein's reception on Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock introducing her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Wallerstein, a bride of November, was a most beautifully appointed affair.

The house was a bower of the southern smilax. The arched doorway between the hall and the three receiving rooms were outlined with the graceful vine, and it was used in profusion on the balustrade of the stairway. The mantels of the reception room and the dining room were artistically banked with palms and ferns. The chandeliers were wreathed with the plumosa fern. In the dining room a color-scheme of white and green was beautifully elaborated. The square table was veiled in a cloth of Chrys lace over green. A round mirror framed in silver with a tall cut glass vase of the giant white chrysanthemums made a charming centerpiece. Silver candlesticks with white chrysanthemum flower-shades outlined the centerpiece. Ropes of smilax extended from the chandelier to the four sides of the table; these were caught to the chandelier by a butterfly bow of white tulle. Silver dishes of green and white mints added to the artistic color-note. An orchestra, stationed in the upstairs hall, played throughout the afternoon.

Receiving in the hall were Mrs.

DID THE WORK.

Grew Strong on Right Food.

You can't grow strong by merely exercising. You must have food and that food must be the kind you can digest and assimilate.

No matter how much food you eat unless it is digested it adds to the burden the digestive organs have naturally to carry. This often means a nervous breakdown.

"About a year ago," writes a Mass. lady, "I had quite a serious nervous breakdown caused, as I believed, by overwork and worry. I also suffered untold misery from dyspepsia.

"First I gave up my position, then I tried to find a remedy for my troubles, something that would make me well and strong, something to rest my tired stomach and build up my worn-out nerves and brain.

"I tried one kind of medicine after another, but nothing seemed to help for some time. As a last resort I tried different foods, but they all failed me.

"Finally a friend recommended Grape-Nuts and with little or no faith in it, I tried a package. That was eight months ago and I have never been without it since.

"Grape-Nuts did the work. It helped me grow strong and well. Grape-Nuts put new life into me, built up my whole system and made another woman of me!" "There's a Reason."

IMPROVEMENT OF THE WATERWAYS

Urged by Roosevelt and Taft in Addresses.

Bond Issue Favored to Meet Cost of Conserving All National Resources of Country.

TAFT PRESIDED AT MEETING.

Washington, Dec. 9.—President Roosevelt and President-elect Taft publicly put themselves on record today in advocacy of the issuance of government bonds for the construction of permanent public improvements to conserve the natural resources of the nation.

President-elect Taft presided at a joint conservation meeting at the Belasco theater in this city, at which President Roosevelt made the principal address. Roosevelt gave his unqualified approval for the carrying out of the expert plans for the conservation of the nation's resources and Taft seconded Roosevelt's assertions with hearty accord.

Governor Chamberlain, of Oregon, voiced what seemed the advanced ground of the Democratic party, in advocacy of federal jurisdiction, and an audience which filled the theater applauded every sentiment expressed.

President Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

No right-minded citizen would stop the proper use of our resources, but every good American must realize that national improvidence follows the same course that leads to the same end and personal improvidence, and that needless waste must stop. The time to deride or neglect the statements of experts and the teachings of the facts has gone by. The time to act on what we know has now arrived. Common prudence, common sense, and common business principles are applicable to national affairs just as they are to private affairs, and the time has come to use them in dealing with the foundations of our prosperity.

We must not grow hysterical or sensational in depleting our conditions long since passed away to prevent us from seeing the facts and applying business common sense to the situation they disclose. The purpose of the inventory was to give the facts—not to create alarm, but to take stock of what we have, and so to lead to the necessary action for its preservation and increase.

Waterway Improvement.

Our natural resources are so related that the use of one affects the use of all the others. This is especially true in our waterways. Every man, woman and child within our borders has an interest in them, through navigation, power, irrigation, or water supply, or through all four. We have

Nervous Headache

"I know from experience that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will relieve severe cases of headache quickly." MRS. GEO. S. HENRY, Sullivan, Wash.

In many persons the least excitement, exertion or irritation causes headache. They cannot attend church, theatre, places of amusement, travel, or mingle in a crowd without suffering an attack of headache. The nerves of the brain are easily excited, and this irritable condition causes pain. Such persons should take before starting out, or on the first indication of an attack. They invariably relieve all such misery. The first package will benefit. If not, your druggist will return your money.

neglected our waterways more than any other natural resource and we must put an end to that neglect. The inland waterways commission has told us how.

First, let us prepare a comprehensive plan for inland waterway development along the lines pointed out by the commission. Such a plan must consider every use of the waters. It must put the interests of all the people in advance of any private interests whatsoever. The preparation of this comprehensive plan should begin at once.

Second, let us proceed immediately with the construction of the waterways for which plans have already been approved, and which we are now certain will fit into the outlines of the general plan. Our previous policy of procrastination, delay, and fitful and partial action, has borne its perfect fruit. Our waterways are deserted, and in return for our vast expenditures we have little or no actual navigation to show. The people are ready for a change. Let us have it, and at once. If we can pay the cost from current revenues let us do so. If not let us issue bonds. By either method, let us have the waterways and that quickly. The plan and the work can and should proceed together. While the work we are sure of is being begun, the plan for the rest can be prepared.

The joint meeting brought together members of the conservation committee and their helpers, delegates to the great southern commercial congress, members of the rivers and harbors congress and others interested in working out a comprehensive plan for making the most of the lands, minerals, forests and waters that belong to public domain of the United States.

Had a Close Call.

Mrs. Ada L. Crooni, the widely known proprietor of the Croon Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles effected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at all drug stores 50c. and $1.00. Stewed Faust Spaghetti

Boil and drain one fourth pound Faust Spaghetti; put into a saucepan two ounces of butter; mix with two tablespoonsful of flour; moisten with one-half pint of milk and one gill of cream; salt and white pepper to taste; put in the Spaghetti; let it boil, and serve while hot.

First on the List

Faust Spaghetti is not a "last resort" food. Once you've tried it you'll say to the grocerman "First of all, FAUST SPAGHETTI," instead of tacking it on at the end as a mere afterthought. First on the list because you know you can prepare it in endless different ways. First on the list because the family never tires of it. First on the list because it's so nourishing and because it costs so very little.

FAUST BRAND SPAGHETTI

is a wholesome American product that reaches you fresh and clean in sealed packages. Try the recipe shown here and see how good it is. See how its wonderful cooking usefulness relieves you of the vexatious question "what to have for dinner?"—how it keeps up your table-reputation and down the cost.

Try it to-day. Sold by nearly all grocers—only five and ten cents a package.

ARM SHOT OFF

ETHEL EMERSON ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED BY SHOTGUN.

Dr. Troutman Finds It Necessary to Amputate the Left Arm Afterwards.

Ethel Emerson, a woman living on a houseboat moored in the Tennessee river nine miles from the city, was seriously wounded last night by the accidental discharge of a gun. The entire load entered the woman's left arm, and when she was taken to the office of Dr. J. S. Troutman, in Manchesterburg, it was found that amputation was necessary. The woman

STOPS ANY ITCHING.

Doan's Ointment Cures Eczema and Itching Piles—Rudical People Recommend It.

One application of Doan's Ointment stops any itching. Short treatment cures eczema, itching piles, salt rheum—any skin eruption or skin itching. It is the cheapest remedy to use, because so little of it is required to bring relief and a cure. Here is Paduch testimony to prove it:

J. R. Wombie, of 1162 Broadway, Paduch, Ky., says: "For years I was a sufferer from itching piles in a severe form. When I would get heated they would annoy me terribly. At night I could get no rest on account of them and I often had to get up and walk around the room. I believe I tried nearly every remedy for piles on the market, but nothing ever gave me the desired relief until I got a box of Doan's Ointment at DuBois, Son & Co.'s drug store. The very first application had a soothing influence and after a second day's use I could go to bed at night and sleep in comfort. The contents of the one box cured me entirely. I also used Doan's Ointment on my hand for a sore and found it very healing." (From statement given in 1900).

A Lasting Cure.

On February 18 Mr. Wombie said: "I gave a statement in 1900 telling how Doan's Ointment had cured me of a severe case of itching piles. I am glad to confirm that statement at this time, as the cure has been lasting. Doan's Ointment is certainly a superior remedy for any skin affection."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Very Wrong Idea

A Young Man Had It.

A well known young man said the other day: "I would like to start a bank account if I could ever save up enough money to do so." That is the idea a great many people have, that they must have $40 to $80 to start. That is wrong, very wrong. The way to start a bank account is to bring a few dollars to us each salary day and place it in our Savings Department, where it draws 4 per cent interest and you will be surprised how fast it will grow.

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Paducah at Gilbert's and other leading drug stores.

ELECTROCUTED

FORMER PADUCAH LINEMAN
MEETS DEATH ON POLE.

Iron Basket in Which He Was Riding is Blown Against a Live Wire.

John D. Haney, formerly a lineman for both Paducah telephone systems, was accidentally killed Monday in St. Louis, where he was employed by the Bell Telephone company. Haney was electrocuted while on top of a telephone pole by his body coming in contact with an electric light wire.

The Globe-Democrat says:
"John D. Haney, one of the 'trouble men' employed by the Bell Telephone company, was electrocuted and instantly killed shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when an iron basket, in which he was lowering his tools to the street was blown by the wind against a wire of the Union Electric Light and Power company and 4400 volts of electricity passed through his body."

"Haney first dropped on the little platform, on which he had been working, then rolled off, and his dead body fell at the feet of Bert Seamell, his helper, who was on the ground waiting for the last load of tools to descend."

"The accident happened at Nineteenth street and Cass avenue, and was witnessed by a number of persons who were waiting for a street car. Several women who saw the body lying beside the telephone pole were led away in a faint."

"Haney had been in the employ of the Bell Telephone company for two years and was regarded as a careful employee. He and Seamell had been out on a trouble call and had finished their work shortly before 5 o'clock.
Haney, who was up on the pole, was sending his tools down when the wind blew the metal basket against the wire."

"Haney was 27 years old and married. Besides the widow he leaves a daughter 3 years old. Mrs. Haney was prostrated by the news of her husband's death and it was necessary to call a physician."

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c. at Spectacular Roof Fire.

Sparks from a defective fine smoldered in the attic of the residence of Mrs. James Downes, on Clay street between Seventh and Eighth streets, for several hours before bursting out into a flame. The fire was discovered this morning at 2 o'clock and the roof was a mass of flames. Those company No. 3 and the truck from No. 4 station answered the alarm and soon extinguished the fire. The roof was burned off the kitchen and the loss will amount to about $150. The house is owned by Lee Potter.

ALFALFA FEEDING

BEST METHOD FOR HORSES, STOCK AND POULTRY.

The Alfalfa is Rendered 50 Per Cent
More Valuable By Grinding, Mere Cutting Not Effective.

(From the Southwestern Grain and Flour Journal.)

About a year ago we began feeding alfalfa meal to horses. These were horses accustomed to eating alfalfa hay and could probably be started out on a larger feed than a horse which had not been used to alfalfa. After considerable experimenting we have found the best way to feed a draft horse is to fill a half bushel measure nearly full of alfalfa meal. This weighs about four pounds, and then add three quarts of ground corn and enough water to thoroughly wet it, but make it only a stiff paste mass.

ANOTHER GALA DAY AT ULLMAN'S

Second Day of the

GREAT FIRE SALE

The crowds attending our first day's sale, without doubt was the greatest ever known in Paducah's history—in fact, so great, as to compel us to lock our doors fully 11 times during the day, and seriously handicapped us in the facilitating of business. These crowds clearly attest more than words can ever express, our almost instantaneous popularity and reliability as but a few words of advertising, backed by solid facts was the only magnet we applied to attract. As usual, we lead, and propose to continue our leadership. Every article in every department participates in the reduction.

This is then fed to each horse at hard work three times a day. At night the horse is given from five to ten pounds of prairie hay. No hay is given at any other time of day. On this ration my draft horses keep in perfect condition, fat and with a very glossy coat. To my roadsters I feed from one-half to two-thirds as much or from two to three pounds of alfalfa meal and almost as much ground corn and in just the same way, with about five pounds of prairie hay in the evening. Feeding them in this way, we notice no excessive urination, no unusual sweating, no softness or indigestion, and it makes an almost perfect substitute for oats. Once in a while a driver does not do so well without an occasional feed of oats, but a very large percent of them are fed no oats at all, as the corn chop and alfalfa meal is much more economical. I prepared thirty driving horses for sale last winter and spring on this kind of feed and they were pronounced by experts to be in the most perfect physical condition they had ever seen in a bunch of horses. I also worked twenty young horses on the race track, feeding them in the same way that I did the drivers, making little changes for individual peculiarities, and the results were equally satisfactory. We drove a number of them one-eighth mile in fifteen seconds on this kind of feed. They seemed to have all the snap and life and energy required and their physical condition seemed perfect. But I think the very best and most remarkable results were in feeding a bunch of draft colts. These were fed in the proportion of one-half bushel of alfalfa meal to one quart of corn, mixed wet as before and fed in bunks in feed yards.

The colts were fed all of this they could eat up clean three times a day and were allowed to run to prairie hay and out and straw and eat as much as they pleased. They made the greatest growth and looked the best of any lot of colts in the country, and the expense was not nearly so great as it would have been to feed them oats as I used to do.

We also fed 20 head of steers for beef, starting with 10 pounds of corn and 20 pounds of alfalfa meal per day for each steer and gradually reducing the alfalfa meal until we had 20 pounds of corn and 10 pounds of alfalfa meal.

These steers were allowed some corn fodder for roughening and the feeding was so profitable we cleared over $300 on the 20 steers while none of our neighbors were able to make any profit on the same priced steers and beef. We fed a bunch of sheep with equally good results. In feeding hogs we find our best results by mixing shorts and finely ground alfalfa meal half and half by weight, and have it fed in a thin swirl. For brood sows and growing pigs it is the cheapest and most satisfactory feed we have ever used. For finishing fattening hogs it may be a little bulky to get the most rapid results, although a little of the alfalfa fed even to them will be a great benefit unless one had some more concentrated protein like tankage. We also fed 40 head of dairy cows for six months as an experiment. We found that for the average milker giving about 2 1/2 gallons of milk per day that one-half bushel of alfalfa meal fed twice a day with all the corn fodder she wished between feeds, was a very satisfactory ration and produced more milk at the least expense. A number of experiments were made changing alfalfa meal to bran and back again, pound for pound, and always the results were in favor of the alfalfa meal in the amount of milk produced. From these experiences and others we have had, I do not hesitate to say that alfalfa meal will balance the carbohydrates-rations perfectly and give the most excellent results in every case.

It certainly is equal to bran if not superior to it in every way except that it may require wetting and may be slightly more dusty to handle. It sometimes takes a few days to get the animals accustomed to it and it should be begun in small quantities and gradually increased, but after feeding for a very few days the alfalfa meal and our horse men say they would not raise young horses without it. Out of hundreds of people who have used it I have never seen one who did not like it.

ROOM FOR ANOTHER.

You are often irritated when you have to stand in a car because people do not move along on the seat so YOU can sit down. Do you move along for others when YOU are seated?

Always?

If always, then lean down and request the others to make room for you now that you are standing up.

Our passengers can build up a custom of "moving along the seat for another" if each will "move along" for others, or always ask another to move along for them. It is a matter largely between our patrons. But we are interested to have our conductors seat everyone possible.

CHURCH COUNCIL COMES TO CLOSE

Opposition to Increase Armament of Power

Co-operation of City and Country Papers Asked in Warfare on Immorality and Crime.

FOR BETTER DIVORCE LAWS

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—The first federal council of the churches of Christ in America, organized to further the movement of unity of action among the Protestant denominations in the interest of spreading the gospel, closed today. Strong resolutions were adopted in opposition to increased armament by the nations of the earth.

Resolutions were also adopted condemning the divorce evil and commending organizations that have taken up the subject of better divorce laws. The council also passed a resolution calling upon school authorities to give the children more time during the week for religious instructions in their homes and churches. The council also adopted the following:

"The federal council recognizes the great value of the city and country press, the last as well as the first, reaching and serving a vast religious as well as a civic field, and cordially invites all brotherhood of the press, secular and religious, to co-operate with the council as allies in the warfare against civic corruption, commercial dishonesty, immorality, vice and crime."

Peace, Not War.
Prof. Henry Wade Rogers, dean of the law department of Yale University, presented as chairman the report of the committee on international relations of the federal council, in substance as follows:

The practical question is, what can the churches do to aid the movement for the abolition of war?

They can educate public opinion. The greatest moral influence in the country is the pulpit. Through the pulpit and the religious press they can awaken the public conscience and create a universal demand for the abolition of war a limitation of armament and an international court of arbitral justice. Every church member has a part in this. The international committee of the Young Men's Christian association, the young people's societies and all religious organizations should feel their responsibility. It is desirable that schools should celebrate the 18th of May as Peace Day. The committee recommends:

1. That the federal council declare its conviction that war is evil, and Christian nations should resort to arbitration in case of international difficulties.

2. That it favors the creation of the international court of arbitral justice.

3. That it is opposed to increase of armaments.

4. That it learns to its satisfaction of the negotiation of treaties of arbitration between the United States and some nations, hopes that other treaties may be negotiated and that their existence be no longer limited to five years.

The committee also recommends the adoption of a resolution commending to all churches the observance of the Sunday before Christmas as Peace Sunday, and a resolution recommending that the various young people's societies recognize May 18 as Haguo Day, and in all their chapters on that day consider the subject of peace.

Marriage and Divorce.
The report of the committee on Family Life, which was prepared by the Rt. Rev. William Grosvenor Doane, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Albany, N. Y., was presented by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Matthews, of Chicago, bishop of the United Brethren in Christ. Bishop Doane's report was in part as follows:

"Marriage is an estate of life continuous and permanent, defined in a religious way in the Scriptures and described by the statutes in a civil and legal sense. The great need of the time is to impress upon men and women the seriousness, sacredness and solemnity of marriage. It is the only contract which a man and a woman can make for life, the only contract that cannot end by mutual consent, the only life contract that is legally binding, the only contract legally binding for more than a year that is not expressed in writing.

"Next is the danger of easy divorce, tearing up the roots of the family and family life. Differ as we may in the various Protestant churches upon the grounds on which divorce may be allowed there is a consensus of opinion in all the churches that divorce is a menace to society and a threatening ruin to the home. The committee unhesitatingly declares that in their judgment there is at most but one cause for which a marriage ought to be broken by a court of law. Meanwhile it becomes us as teachers to create a clear and strong public opinion to enlist on the side of the sacredness of marriage, the irresistible power of social opinion.

News of Theatres

"Brown of Harvard."
Rida Johnson Young, the author of "Brown of Harvard," which the Shuberts will offer at The Kentucky December 26, with James Young in the title role, has risen in three years to the position of our most successful woman dramatist. In quick succession she has written four straight successes in "The Boys of Company B," "Glorious Betsey," "Brown of Harvard" and "Ragged Robin," each of which has added to the roster of such stars as Arnold Daly, Mary Manning, Henry Woodruff and Chancey Olcott. Although such speed on the part of the writer might put her under the suspicion of "pot boiling," a close study of Mrs. Young's career proves a long period of study and application in the magic art of producing dramatic incident and dialogue.

Something About "The Boys of Company B."

Paul Gilmore's new play, "The Boys of Company B," in which he is starring this season, was the fad at the Lyceum theater, New York, for an entire season. Portraying a phase of American life so cleverly, it is bound to be a success wherever it is played in this country, and, from what Mr. Gilmore predicts for its success in London after looking over the ground very thoroughly last summer, it may prove to be the great success across the water it has become here. The story is about a witty and sane young New Yorker who is in love with the darling of his heart and she with him. They are both young—Eileen, the fair one, is celebrating her twentieth birthday at the opening of the play. Tony Allen (Mr. Gilmore) has promised Eileen's mother not to speak of love to the young lady of his choice until she arrives at the age of twenty, and on this, her birthday, he is determined to propose to her and her mother is equally determined that he shall not. How he succeeds in foiling the matrimonial schemes ever thought out by a dramatist.

Dustin Farnum in "The Squaw Man"

Mary Conwell, leading woman for Dustin Farnum in "The Squaw Man," the successful play by Edwin Milton Ely, that comes to The Kentucky soon, under the management of Lisher & Company, is accorded the distinction of being one of the most forceful and efficient actresses in emotional roles, outside of the limited stellar ranks of that class of actresses. In her career she has had association with many of the most prominent stars and has essayed leading roles in a wide range of plays. Her last appearance in this city was as leading woman with Mr. Farnum when he appeared in "The Virginian."

If you are the salt of the earth you will not be dropping yourself on the eyes of places in other folks.
